ALL ABOUT PRUNING...

Pruning

Crown Clean: is the removal of dead, dying, diseased, crowded, weakly attached, and low-vigor branches from the crown of the tree.

Crown Raise: is removal or pruning of lower branches in order to provide clearance for building, vehicles, pedestrians and views.

Crown Reduction: is a reduction in height and/or spread of a tree by pruning back the tips of limbs. This procedure is only for soft-wooded trees, unless we are pruning a hardwood away from a structure or wires.

We NEVER use spikes to climb your tree unless it is a removal. Spikes wound the trunk, and spread disease.

HOW we prune is much more important than WHEN we prune. The only exceptions are American Elm and Oaks, which should always be pruned in fall or winter.
